

King's College Hospital launches Allscripts Sunrise™

September 1, 2016

Solution powers one of UK's largest teaching hospitals to transform delivery of care

CHICAGO, Sept. 01, 2016 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- King's College Hospital NHS Foundation Trust has launched the Allscripts (NASDAQ:MDRX) Sunrise solution as the foundation for its new health information system. The organization selected the Sunrise platform in late 2015 and completed the deployment of the solution in an unprecedented eight months.

King's College Hospital (KCH) is one of the United Kingdom's largest teaching hospitals, training more than 900 dentists, 750 doctors and 300 nurses each year. KCH is also one of the UK's leading tertiary centers, delivering first-class training and education opportunities for the UK's health professionals, as well as providing a solid foundation for the UK's medical research sector.

"This was fantastic work, managed very capably, and resulting in a really smooth launch," said Professor Julia Wendon, Medical Director at King's College Hospital. "I'd like to express my thanks to the King's and Allscripts teams for their hard work and focus in driving the successful roll out of Sunrise. The new system will provide us with an even greater opportunity to transform the care we deliver through the use of better technology for the benefit of patients and users."

Used by many of the leading hospitals and health systems in the world, Sunrise is a highly configurable suite of clinical solutions that offers clinician-specific workflows to help drive adoption of clinical decision support, which can lead to improved patient outcomes.

"The partnership between King's College Hospital and Allscripts will enable KCH to continue to develop integrated models of care for its patient population," said Steven Brain, Allscripts UK Managing Director. "The highly successful Sunrise implementation is just the beginning – KCH is now equipped to continue significantly advancing health care in the United Kingdom."
